Krewe of Bogue Falaya Parade Announces

Adam Acquistapace

King 2027

Covington, LA – The Krewe of Bogue Falaya Parade and its officers proudly announce Adam Acquistapace, King for the 2027 Mardi Gras Day parade. The announcement, held at the Southern Hotel, was attended by parade members, elected officials, community leaders, family, and friends.

Adam Acquistapace is a lifelong Covington resident and entrepreneur who helps lead his family's food and wine business, Acquistapace's, with stores in Covington, Mandeville and Slidell. He continues generations of family entrepreneurship and advocates for small independent businesses. Acquistapace's has been honored with the St. Tammany Chamber of Commerce's All in the Family and Tammany awards. Adam earned degrees from LSU and Tulane University and is a Leadership St. Tammany graduate. His community involvement includes Heroes Who Cook, the Regional Planning Commission, and support for local nonprofits and fundraisers. He and his wife, Danielle, are raising their three children in Covington and believe in supporting the local businesses and organizations that make their community a wonderful place to call home.

"Our Krewe is overjoyed that Adam will reign as our 2027 King for the Krewe of Bogue Falaya," said Captain and Parish Councilman Larry Rolling. "As a business owner Adam has given back and making a difference in our community that he loves."

Co-Captain Amy Tucker announced that the parade will not only honor Adam but also celebrate this year's theme, "Let Us Entertain You," featuring 24 floats, 800 riding members, marching bands, and community groups for Mardi Gras Day 2027. This year will again also feature the Krewe of Karts featuring 20 golf karts decorated to compete for the Best Kart!

New this year, the parade will proudly welcome its first-ever Southeastern Louisiana University Alumni float, bringing Lion pride to the streets of Covington on Mardi Gras Day.

The celebration begins on Lundi Gras, February 8, 2027, with a second-line parade starting at the winding Bogue Falaya River and Park. The King will arrive by riverboat and second line to jazz music to the steps of the Southern Hotel, where he will be honored by the Krewe of Bogue Falaya officers, and the Mayor of Covington. The festivities will conclude with a champagne and king cake celebration open to the community.

The Krewe of Bogue Falaya Mardi Gras Day Parade rolls on Tuesday, February 9, 2027, through historic downtown Covington.

Officers: Joann Rucker, Amy Tucker, Adam Acquistapace (King 2027), Larry Rolling, Jodie Burke, & George Landrum.
